AMP Capital expands capability in Global Listed Real Estate

AMP Capital's vision is to be a pre-eminent global investment manager with achieving client goals at the centre of our purpose. With a track record that extends back to 2002, the Global Listed Real Estate (GLRE) business is fundamental to this goal with a strong focus on strengthening our global capability that delivers for our investors.

We're focused on our commitment to continuous improvement and a high performance-led culture. Therefore, building upon our proactive changes in February this year, when Jessica Koh was promoted to Head of Asia Listed Real Estate, we're pleased to further update you on our commitment to growing our headcount of dedicated investors.

We're excited to announce two new appointments into the AMP Capital Global Real Estate team – Hideharu Ichii and Anika Minocha.

Hideharu Ichii has joined AMP Capital as a Portfolio Manager / Analyst in AMP Capital's Global Listed Real Estate team, with over 18 years' financial experience and an extensive background in the Japanese real estate equities market. The recruitment of Mr Ichii reflects the growth opportunities for global listed real estate, the importance of the Japanese market and our commitment to reinvesting into our high-performing team. He will be based in Hong Kong.

Prior to joining AMP Capital, Mr Ichii worked as senior portfolio manager at APG Asset Management Asia for seven years, primarily covering Japan and Australia within the firm's listed real estate Asia Pacific team. Other prior roles include portfolio management and research roles at CBRE Global Real Estate Securities and Taiyo Pacific Partners as well as corporate finance and equity sales roles at Nikko Securities. Mr Ichii was also actively involved in promoting the Global Real Estate Sustainability Benchmark (GRESB) in the Japan market.

The addition of a highly experienced and respected investor to the team will bring valuable expertise in the allocation of capital within the Japanese market and provide an essential contribution to the broader GLRE team.

Anika Minocha has also joined AMP Capital as a Portfolio Manager/Analyst in AMP Capital's Global Listed Real Estate team, based in Sydney. Anika joins the team in July 2018 after completing various rotations on the AMP Capital graduate programme, including two stints within the GLRE team. Prior to joining AMP Capital, Anika completed an Investment Banking (Real Estate) internship with Bank of America Merrill Lynch in Sydney.

AMP Capital remains committed to our strong global listed real estate capability and these new appointments reflect the sheer size and depth of the global listed real estate market, along with the exceptional opportunity to deliver outperformance for our clients.
